PROFILE

I'm a graduated management engineer. In this period I'm taking part in U-PHOS Project, an University project, in particular I'm one of the responsables for Outreach part of the project. I love international experiences, travelling around the world and developing new relationships and knowledge. Since now I have travelled a lot for pleasure but I'm willing to do that also for my professional carrer. I'm inclined to work in team, thanks to my university education and my innate ability to collaborate with people. I like challenges because they help me to improve, work hard and better the knowledge of myself.
